Mountain climber Bo Parfet is stepping up to raise funds for three local charities: the Bronson Health Foundation, the Kalamazoo Nature Center and SLD Learning Center. Bo will use the StepMill® and Precor™ AMT fitness equipment to simulate a climb of Mt. Manaslu in Nepal, which at 26,781 feet (8,163 meters) is the world's eighth tallest mountain.

Classified as a professional ski mountaineer, Bo has traveled the world while conquering the Seven Summits (the highest mountains on every continent). He will climb Mt. Manaslu in September. Bo chose the three charities as beneficiaries because they focus on helping kids overcome obstacles and achieve their dreams.

Come support this cause by donating money or by getting sponsors and using the Stairmaster®, StepMill and Precor AMT fitness equipment alongside Bo.
